About This Game

Free Towns is city-building / military / political strategy game where you control a group of citizens who decide to restart their lives in a new land. Citizens are recruited and die and depends on you to keep them healthy, happy, and well-fed.

Your aim is to create a prosperous and thriving city, using your production and manufacturing capabilities to create raw materials and goods. The profits can then be invested back into improving the lives of your citizens / increasing your production capacity or mine more gold. The internal currency is Free Towns Gold that can be only mined (players can't buy gold).

There are over 10 different occupations that the people in the city can perform from farming, hunting, blacksmithing, to gold mining or firefighting. No single strategy will succeed for every town. It's up to player to build / upgrade roads, resources or utility buildings and recruit new citizens. It's not easy. Buildings degrade every day and will collapse without renovation. Citizens will die after a while and resource buildings will stop the production without employees and so on.

- Build your city in any imaginable combination. Bask in the awe-inspiring glory of more than 20 unique buildings (each building can be upgraded up to 5 levels).

- Assign your workers to various jobs (Wood cutters, farmers, firemen...)

- Manage your resources carefully and increase your citizens happiness / life span

- Expand your city over a huge map

It's a horribly done mobile game port of a probably very bad mobile game. Blatant money grab with no playability, they put no effort to convert it to a proper PC game. Avoid avoid, I got a refund immediately. https:\/\/youtu.be\/SP-8joZrXGw. This game is mostly a waste of time. It's a rough draft at the moment. I can't honestly recommend it at this early stage.

Pros: Similar to Anno Online and Settlers Online and several other browser based city builder games.

Cons: Font is really small. Can't restart the game at the moment. Playing the game is really really slow. Think weeks and months not hours and days to build anything meaningful in your towns. Play anno online and you will get a taste for what these guys have in mind.
